

La Chiesa del Santo Volto, Turin Architecture: Mario Botta, Lugano

La Chiesa del Santo Volto
Via Val della Torre, 11
Torino
Italy

Completed in: 2006
Furniture:
on stage, yeah!

Impressive: Mario Botta's new ecclesiastical building in Turin.
Fotos: © Sedus

The new presbytery complex on a former industrial site is dedicated to the "Holy Countenance of Jesus". This part of the city has 12,000 inhabitants, who want their religious facilities to be modern. The new buildings include the entire pastoral infrastructure with parish church, chapel, offices and consulting rooms as well as a congress center.

La Chiesa del Santo Volto, Turin
Architecture: Mario Botta, Lugano

La Chiesa del Santo Volto
Via Val della Torre, 11
Torino
Italy

Completed in: 2006
Furniture:
on stage, yeah!

on stage rows of chairs in the chappel (photo on left) Photos: © Sedus

Consulting areas and offices in the priest's office have been fitted with yeah! swivel office chairs and visitor chairs. (photos, top right and below)

