

Schleich GmbH, Schwäbisch Gmünd, Germany
Architecture: Meuser Architekten GmbH, Berlin
Office planning: Officeform, Berlin

Schleich GmbH
Am Limes 69
Schwäbisch Gmünd
Germany

Completion date: 2009

Products:
temptation, crossline,
roxy, meet chair

Seating group with meet chair

Starting as a supplier of plastic parts, the company became known in the 1950s with its "Schleich figures". The Smurfs, Biene Maja and Snoopy were the first toys made by the company. Now dinosaurs, indians and elves have long been a part of the portfolio as well. At the company's headquarters in Gmünd, a new administration building has been erected. Here, products are designed, tools are manufactured and the company is also controlled.

For the office furnishing, architect Natascha Meuser decided in favour of a great deal of pure white. Selected spots of colour match the colour of the company's toys.

Photos: © Werner Huthmacher

Schleich GmbH, Schwäbisch Gmünd, Germany
Architecture: Meuser Architekten GmbH, Berlin
Office planning: Officeform, Berlin

Schleich GmbH
Am Limes 69
Schwäbisch Gmünd
Germany

Completion date: 2009

Products:
temptation, crossline,
roxy, meet chair

The temptation table and container system was chosen for the furniture. The crossline swivel office chairs were selected as seating and the roxy cantilever chairs for visitors. Photos: © Werner Huthmacher